Programme Title : Expert Talk on Innovation/Prototype Validation
Date : 11.08.2023; Time: 09:00 am – 01:00 pm
Resource Person : Mr. R. Babu Rajan
Deputy General Manager, SIPCOT, Cuddalore.

The PG and Research Department of Physics along with SJC-IIC has organized Expert Talk on Innovation/Prototype Validation on 11-08-2023 for the I & II PG Students. Dr. M.Maria Julie, Assistant Professor, Department of Physics co-ordinated the program. Totally 47 Post Graduate students participated in the program.

Objective of the programme:

To mentor and validate innovation and prototype development.

Theme: Expert Talk on Innovation/Prototype Validation (Mentoring and Validation)

Stage 1 : Defining and standardizing assumptions

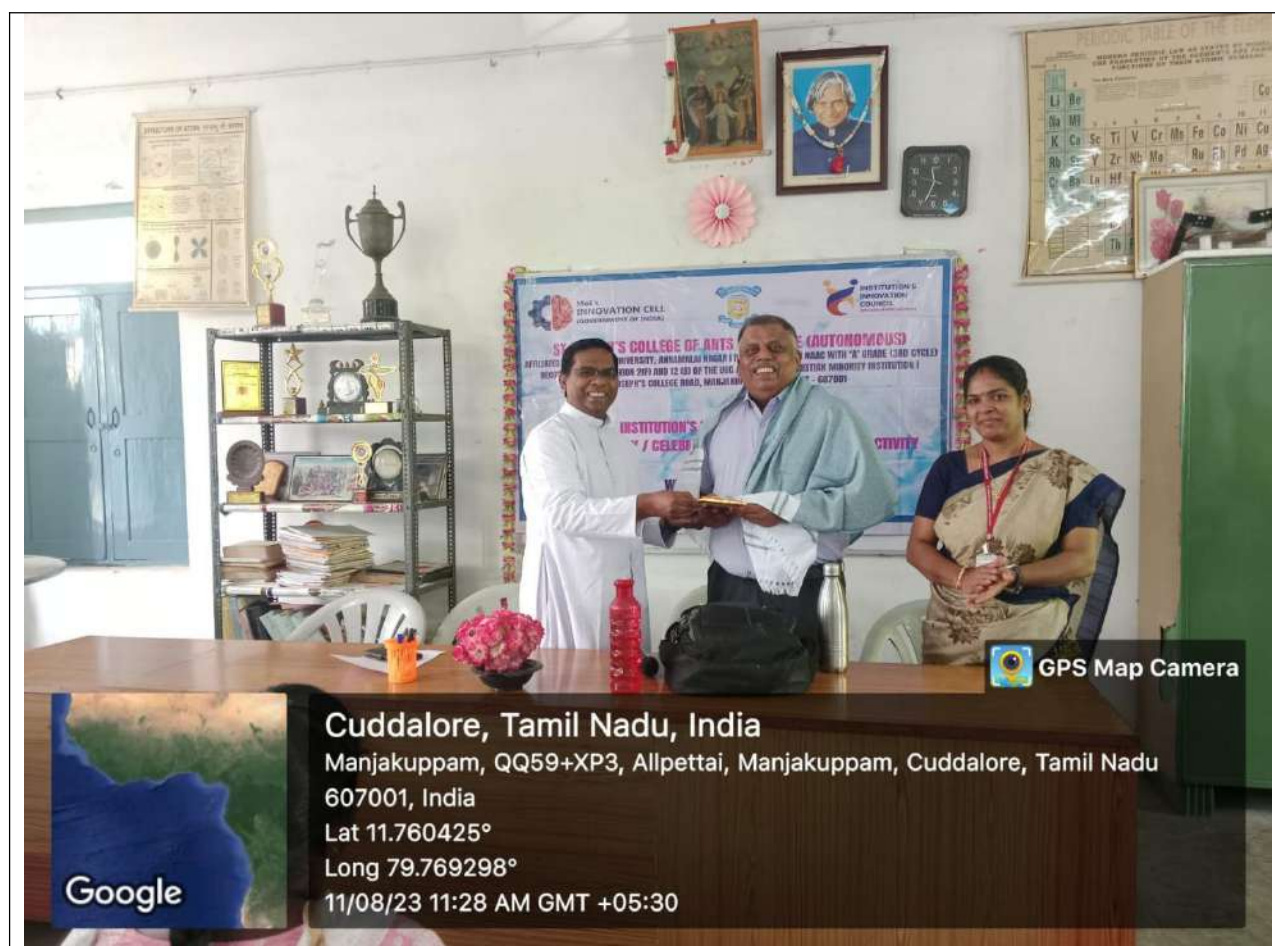

The first step to validate the prototype is to define and standardizing assumptions about the problem, solution, and value proposition. These are the hypotheses that one want to test with their experiments. For example, one might assume that his/her target customers have a specific pain point, that the prototype solves it effectively, and that they are willing to pay for it. Write down the assumptions clearly and prioritize them based on their risk and importance.

Stage 2: Choosing the right method

The next step is to choose the right method that one uses to test the assumptions with the prototype developed. There are different types of methods depending on the stage of your prototype, the type of feedback you want, and the resources one have. For example, one can use surveys, interviews, landing pages, demos, or beta testing to collect quantitative or qualitative data from the customers. You can also use pitch decks, mock ups, or videos to present your prototype to investors and get their feedback.

Stage 3: Designing the experiments

The third step is to design your experiments based on the methods and assumptions. One need to define the goals, metrics, and success criteria for each experiment. For example, if you want to test your value proposition with a landing page, you need to set a goal (e.g., sign-ups), a metric (e.g., conversion rate), and a success criterion (e.g., 10% or more). You also need to plan how to recruit and segment your participants, how to run and monitor your experiments, and how to avoid biases and errors. He explained about the robotics, mobility tracker, drone camera, radio frequency identification and so on.

Programme Title : Problem Solving and Ideation Workshop
Date : 13th November, 2023 (Monday)
Resource Person : Dr.Jerold, Assosiate Professor,Pope John Paul College, Puducherry.

The PG and Research Department of Physics along with IIC has organized a calender activity titled “ Problem Solving And Ideation Workshop ” on 13-11-2023 for the I & II PG Students. Dr. M.Maria Julie, Assistant Professor, Department of Physics co-ordinated the programme. Totally 47 Post Graduate students participated in the program.

Honoring resource person and part of the students observing the session.

Objective of the programme:

- To empower students to apply Design Thinking methodology in problem-solving, ideation and innovation.

The participants were introduced to Design Thinking methodology, and they engaged in various activities such as creating their own identity, collaborating to innovate, and building a model using Design Thinking methodology. The morning session also included team formation, where the participants were assigned to different groups based on their interests and backgrounds. This allowed them to work together with other individuals who had complementary skills and expertise. The newly formed teams used Design Thinking methodology to solve problems and come up with innovative solutions. The teams collaborated and built models using the methodology, allowing them to visualize their ideas and bring them to life. At the end of the day, each team made a presentation of their model to the entire group, highlighting the key features and benefits. The presentations provided an opportunity for the participants to share their ideas and receive feedback from their peers and instructors. The day ended with a wrap-up and feedback session.

Outcomes of the programme:

The participants gained hands-on experience in the Design Thinking methodology, collaborated in teams to build innovative solutions, validated their ideas, and presented their models. This enabled them to apply the methodology to future problem-solving scenarios, thereby empowering them to develop creative and effective solutions.

About the Viksit Bharat@2047

Viksit Bharat@2047 is the vision of the Government of India to make India a developed nation by 2047, the 100th year of its independence. The vision encompasses various aspects of development, including economic growth, social progress, environmental sustainability, and good governance.

As India stands at this crucial juncture, poised to take off on its growth trajectory, it is important to realise that tremendous dedication and belief in India's destiny, immense desire, potential, talent and capabilities of the Indians, especially the youth, coupled with steadfast leadership, is necessary to realise this potential. There is enormous work that needs to be undertaken in a mission mode to make India Viksit Bharat by 2047. For this to happen, there is a need to chalk out a bold, ambitious and transformative agenda, and its communication to all stakeholders. The role of the youth, who constitute our largest population group, has a huge role here as they will lead India to Viksit Bharat by 2047.

Therefore, it is important to channelise the innovative ideas of the youth into nation-building by

- To know and understand the scope for Solar Energy Start-ups.

Theme: Scope of Solar Energy Start up

The resource person started the programme by giving a brief introduction about the National Energy Conservation Day. He emphasised on the need and importance of energy conservation, various sources of renewal energy, different ways to recycle and reuse the resources, importance of switching to renewable energy sources, improving energy efficiency and minimizing waste generation. He elaborated on the requirement and usefulness of solar power at a small scale which further reduces the usage of fossil fuel. He also emphasised on the proper and effective consumption of electricity for the minimal resource usage. The programme was aimed to encourage entrepreneurial qualities and innovative ideas among students to establish a start-up w.r.t renewable energy (Solar energy in specific).

The resource person elaborating about the Solar Start-ups.

Outcomes of the Programme.

The students understand the importance of conserving energy resources and its optimum utilization. The students also learnt innovative ideas to establish and develop Solar start-ups.

The SJC Institution's Innovation Council (SJC-IIC) & Department of Business Administration (CA), St. Joseph's College of Arts & Science (Autonomous), Cuddalore, organized an expert talk titled "Process of innovation, technology readiness level (TRL), commercialisation of lab technologies and tech transfer" on 06.01.2024 (Saturday) for the Shift I BBA(CA) students in offline mode. The resource person for the expert talk was Professor. Dr. M. Senthil, Deputy Director – Innovation Café, Institution's Innovation Council, SBV MIPTECH, SBV MGM Bio – Incubator, Sri Balaji Vidyapeeth University, Puducherry-607406. The programme was presided by Rev. Fr. Dr. A. Alex, Head, BBA(CA) and Convener, SJC-IIC. The programme was coordinated by Mr. M. Om Prakash, Assistant Professor, BBA(CA). 137 students participated in the programme.

Objectives of the programme:

- To understand about the process of innovation and technology readiness level (TRL).
- To learn how to commercialize lab technologies.
- To know about transfer of technology.

Process of Innovation Development & Technology Readiness Level (TRL):

The resource person started the session with day to day challenges which deliberately needed a solution. Every solution will arise through creativity which eventually leads to a sustainable innovative product/service. He, then explained about the innovation funnel where every innovation is an outcome of every possible trial and error which happens in a controlled environment.(performed in specific kind of laboratories and research centres). He briefly explained about various levels of Technology Readiness Level from TRL -1 to TRL - 9. He also emphasized the difference between each TRL. He explained the role of Technology parks, incubation centres, research parks, R&D centres in enhancing and supporting the development of Innovation.

The resource person explaining the process of innovation, technology readiness levels (TRL 1-9), commercialisation of lab technologies & tech-transfer.

Commercialization of Lab Technologies & Technology Transfer:

The next session was about Commercialization of Lab Technologies & Technology Transfer. The resource person emphasized that the best innovative solutions developed in the laboratory will flow through a sequence of process before massive production and reaches the market place (L2M) process. He also stated that without commercialization, the innovative solutions remain useless and do not serve any purpose to the world community. Many of the innovations originate in different parts of the world but it shall be commercially viable through the process of Technology Transfer. Technology transfer enable the innovative solutions to cross boundaries of various countries and enter the best market places in the world. He also gave the examples of Mobile technology, 5G evolution, green energy and also quoted that India has the best technology in space sector developing most competitive satellites and transfer the technology to other countries.

Outcomes of the programme:

The students understood about Process of Innovation and Technology Readiness Level (TRL). The students learnt how to commercialize lab technologies and the process of technology transfer, need, significance and impact of technology transfer.

The PG & Research Department of Chemistry association with SJC Institution's Innovation Council organized a exposure visit for the chemistry students to the Soil Testing Laboratory, Sugarcane Research Station, Semmandalam, Cuddalore, Tamilnadu on 08-03-2024. 31 students accompanied by two staff members participated in the visit.

Students actively participating in the exposure visit.

Objectives of the programme:

- To introduce students to the research center for the purpose of identifying and analyzing problems.
- To familiarize students with the operation and use of different analytical instruments.
- To inspire students to become pioneers in agricultural chemistry by developing and implementing innovative ideas.

The staff member from the sample collection unit briefed the students on the methods and procedures for collecting soil samples. Subsequently, in the analysis laboratory, the students gained insights into various soil analysis techniques, including Electrical Conductivity, soil pH, colorimetric analysis, spectrophotometric analysis, fluorimetric analysis, and Atomic Absorption Spectroscopy. They also learned how to quantitatively estimate Nitrogen, Phosphorus, and Potassium levels. In addition, students were taken to the fertilizer laboratory, where they received guidance on providing appropriate fertilizers for different types of soil and plants. They were given practical advice on the correct quantity and type of fertilizer based on their analysis results. The students explored the range of fertilizers available in the market suited to various plants and soil types. This field visit provided valuable hands-on experience with soil sampling techniques and the operation of analytical instruments used in soil and fertilizer analysis.

Outcomes of the programme:

- Improved Problem Identification: Students will learn to identify and analyze agricultural issues more effectively through their experience at the research center.
- Skill with Analytical Tools: Students will become skilled at using various analytical instruments for soil and fertilizer testing.
- Innovation in Agricultural Chemistry: Students will be inspired to create and apply new ideas in agricultural chemistry to tackle challenges in the field.
