SKILL DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMME

Report Title	Skill Development Programme on Tips and Tricks in Interviews
Date	28-09-2022
Time	11.30AM -1.00 PM(Shift-I) 2.00 PM -3.30 PM(Shift-II)
Venue	Archbishop Michael Augustine Library (Library Extension Hall)
Resource Person Details:	Mr. D. Vigneshwara Raj, CEO, Viki infotech, Cuddalore-1

The PG and Research Department of Computer Science organized a seminar “Tips and Tricks in Interviews” on 28.09.2022 at Archbishop Michael Augustine Library (Library Extension Hall). The event was facilitated by Mr. D. Vigneshwararaj, who also provided the students with a wealth of advice on how to ace computer science interviews. As they were in their last year of UG and PG, the students found it to be very helpful.

The UG final year and PG students thoroughly enjoyed learning about interview techniques and essential knowledge before attending any interviews. The major goal of this session was to equip students with the knowledge and skills they will definitely require for success in any tech interviews in the future.

Sessions Handled by the Resource Person Mr. D. Vigneshwara Raj

He also discussed some last-minute advice for acing interviews. As a result, the students gained a clear understanding of the primary hiring practices used by tech companies.

He gave a clear explanation of how to do well in a job interview. He went over every stage of the interview process step-by-step, providing examples and advice: how to be ready for an interview, how to communicate, how many interviews there are, what the focus areas of each type of interview are, how to present oneself, typical questions, how to end the interview, etc. Through an example of a video, he revealed what recruiters really look for: qualification, consistency, trust, and worthiness, insight into areas of strength and improvement, and motivation. 229 students participated in the seminar. The department also received positive feedback from students for this seminar for acing interviews.

The Programme was presided by Rev. Fr. G. Peter Rajendiram, Secretary of St. Joseph's College of Arts & Science (Autonomous). Dr. M. Mr. Ajay Lawrence, Executive-Finance & Accounting Services, Datamatics, Global Services Ltd., Puducherry.

The Session was taken by Mr. Ajay Lawrence, Executive-Finance & Accounting Services, Datamatics, Global Services Ltd., Puducherry. He started to explain about the articles published in the corporate entrepreneurship field and presents the future research agenda. He Stated that, Research agrees that corporate entrepreneurship has a positive impact on firms' profits and growth. This has generated an increase in the number of research articles published in this area. Second, he moved on to the lack of up-to-date comprehensive literature reviews summarizing the knowledge and advances generated in the field in the last years.

He has shared his experience as the organization invests in the creation of a small internal group focused on corporate growth that learns and works following an entrepreneurship program that assists them in a wide range that goes from the conceptualization to the marketing of the idea. The goal is for the team to develop a detailed business plan that must be presented to the leaders of the "innovated" business unit for approval. Success in one business unit arouses the interest of others and, over time, these selected teams become agents of changes. Companies that have implemented this model offer: transparency in the benefits offered to employees who make valuable contributions, clear criteria for selection of ideas and concepts, transparent mechanisms to fund new initiatives, and management support to implement the proposed business highlights.

Mr. Ajay Lawrence explaining about the conceptualization to the marketing in Corporate Entrepreneurship.

The main idea behind the session was to make the students aware of the importance of opportunities. The idea is that the group of eternal acts as evangelizers and experts in innovation, facilitating corporate entrepreneurship among other functional areas or business units of the organization. It uses these internal change agents to sensitize its various business units, encouraging them to experiment and create new business opportunities.

This have been an amazing & enlightening programme, Presented in a clear and engaging way with obvious and immediate results. This programme was attended by 63 Students. The students learned a lot in a comfortable environment.

The Session was taken by Mr. P. Bojana Sastha, Member, Vision Humanity Foundation, Puducherry. He started to explain about the principal question as to what extent social entrepreneurship shapes or can shape conventional entrepreneurship, remains. Perspective is essential for innovation, and given its social focus, social entrepreneurship may offer a new and unique outlook. He Stated that, further examine social entrepreneurship, and to note how it informs conventional entrepreneurship and opportunity recognition. To that end, the following aspects are investigated further on the objectives of social entrepreneurship, innovation practices of social entrepreneurs, implementation within social entrepreneurship, and the relationship between social entrepreneurship and entrepreneurship.

He has shared his experience the underlying is to create social value, characterised by innovation or the creation of something new. Social entrepreneurship is primarily driven by the social problem being addressed, and a social enterprise should take a format that mobilizes the resources needed to address that problem most effectively. Social entrepreneurship can therefore follow different avenues.

Mr. P. Bojana Sastha, explaining the factors of different avenues

The main idea behind the session was to make the students aware of the varying views describing the model and culture of social entrepreneurship. The culture of a traditional non-profit, irrespective of how innovative it is, differs immensely from the culture of an entrepreneurial non-profit.
